

The Transatlantic Observer
Newsletter of the Center for Transatlantic Relations
January 14, 2005

Special Edition: Atlantic Storm

Transatlantic leaders grappled with the tough issues that would face the international community following a simulated bioterrorist attack with contagious disease in a tabletop scenario exercise co-hosted by the Center for Transatlantic Relations on January 14. Click Here to read more.

The scenario players included Madeleine Albright, Gro Harlem Brundtland, Bernard Kouchner, Jerzy Buzek, Sir Nigel Broomfield, Klaas de Vries, Jan Eliasson, Werner Hoyer, Erika Mann, Barbara McDougall, and Stefano Silvestri. Nik Gowing, of the BBC, moderated the concluding discussion. Click Here for their biographies.

The Center for Transatlantic Relations co-hosted Atlantic Storm with the Center for Biosecurity of the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center and the Transatlantic Biosecurity Network, a group of medical, public health, and national security experts from the US and 10 European countries that have been meeting since early 2002. Click Here for more information.

Thank you for subscribing to the Transatlantic Observer, the newsletter of the Center for Transatlantic Relations at the School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University. We welcome your feedback. Contact Jeanette Murphy at jmurph37@jhu.edu with your comments or suggestions.

The Center for Transatlantic Relations
Johns Hopkins University/SAIS
1717 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Suite 525
Washington, D.C. 20036
(202) 663-5880
Email: transatlantic@jhu.edu
<http://transatlantic.sais-jhu.edu>

To join the CTR Mailing List, Please Click Here

To be removed from the list, please send an email with “unsubscribe” in the text to jmurph37@jhu.edu